Promotion and Prevention 1.0: Exploring the Nuances in Academic Integrity in the Classroom

February 5th, 2021 @ Noon

- In this presentation, instructors will have the opportunity to learn key strategies in discussing the importance of academic integrity, as well as in preventing misconduct. Additionally, university policies and procedures in responding to misconduct will be explored to navigate these sometimes difficult conversations.

Promotion and Prevention 2.0: Understanding the Digital Landscape of Academic Integrity

February 19th, 2021 @ Noon

- As the events of the last year have required many instructors to move their courses to the online environment, many have paused to examine their practices around academic integrity. This presentation will explore the digital landscape of academic integrity including considerations for assessment security and e-cheating, as well as how university policy should be considered in these spaces.
